Attendee Conduct

Kells CoderDojo promises to be an inclusive space for all attendees to learn and socialise. We request that attendees:

- Do not use phones or personal devices that may compromise the privacy of other attendees.
- Do not consume food or water in or around equipment.
- Do not behave disruptively or anti-socially

I understand in instances where attendees act contrary to the club's conduct guidelines the attendee will be asked to refrain from acting in such behavior. If attendees continue to act in such a way, I understand that parents will be informed, and that the attendee may be asked not to return.

Drop-off and Collection

Parents/Guardians are encouraged to stay to supervise attendees at Kells CoderDojo sessions. We do allow drop-off and collection of attendees under strict rules. We require that Parents/Guardians who drop-off/collect attendees adhere to the following guidelines:

- Parents/Guardians will drop-off/collect attendees at the start and end of the session.
- Parents/Guardians will notify and authorise Kells CoderDojo staff with the name and contact details of adults collecting attendees who are NOT listed on this form.
- Only adults may drop-off and collect attendees
- Adults collecting attendees must inform Kells CoderDojo staff and follow whatever procedures are in place.
- Attendees are forbidden from leaving the building during the session

If Kells CoderDojo staff feel uncomfortable with the facilitation of attendees in drop-off/collection, Kells CoderDojo staff will request a parent/guardian to stay during the session/class. If the request cannot be accommodated, Kells CoderDojo staff will be within their right to refuse the attendee from partaking in the session/class and/or revoke any future drop-off/collection.

I understand the drop-off/collection guidelines for attendees and will make every reasonable effort to adhere. I understand that by breaking these guidelines, the drop-off/collection facility may be revoked, and/or the attendee may be refused from partaking in any ongoing sessions.
